CONTEST OVER INTEREST RAGES

Virginia Asks That Anti-War Debt be Settled by West Virginia

IN COURT FIFTY YEARS

New State Resists Claim on Ground That Money From Bonds Was Not Spent in that Commonwealth

Washington, April 29—Whether or not West Virginia shall pay interest on her part of the old Virginia state the oral arguments submitted to the Supreme Court of the United States by and the bond-holders in the debt controvency from $8,250,000 to $14,000,000, according to the size of the principal—in each instance the interest is larger than the principal.

West Virginia resisted a judgment for interest on the ground that the amount of principal has never been definitely settled and no interest charges are proper until the principal is fixed. Virginia on the other hand, contended that interest for a half century is a part of the debt and that West Virginia is morally bound to pay it. The Old Dominion further contended that when West Virginia wrote into her state constitution a provision that it will assume an "Equitable" proportion of the Virginia state debt, that provision not only committed her to the paymem of the principal but also of the interest whenever the principal was fixed.

Three of the eight attorneys retained in the case spoke yesterday Sanborn Robinson, for the bondholders; Judge Randolph Harrison, for Virginia, and Attorney-General A. A. Lilly for West Virginia. Judge John H. Holt will conclude for West Virginia today and former Attorney General William A. Anderson will bring the argument to a close for Virginia in the afternoon.

One of the features of yesterday's argument was the plea of Judge Harrison for the Supreme Court to enter a decree, which will settle the debt controversy for all time to come He declared the debt case has been a bone of contention between the two commonwealths for a half century and speaking for Virginia he said that State wanted it settled.

Attorney-General Lilly made a strong argument for West Virginia in closing he exhibited a map showing that the money raised from the sale of the oldbonds was invested in internal improvements in what is now Virginia. Members of the Court asked for copies of this map. Attorney General Lilly said:

"This map shows where this money was spent. It was spent in the old section of the state. Only a small portion went to that section of the state which is now West Virginia. In view of this shall this Court hold that West Virginia shall assume responsibility for a part of this debt and compel her to pay interest on it also?

"There never was a time when West Virginia, standing alone, could have ascertained her suitable proportion of the Virginia debt, and had she had the money to pay it she could not have accomplished it for the reason that she did not know how much it was. It was not one-third or one-half or one-fifth of the Virginia bonds, but it was an 'equitable proportion thereof, which means nothing until the equities have been examined and the account made definite.

"Virginia fixed one-third of the old State debt, amounting to $10,000,000 as West Virginia's share and refused to treat for a settlement on any other basis. This meant that all negotiations were closed through the arbitrary conduct of Virginia until this suit was instituted. Under such circumstances, why should West Virginia be compelled to pay interest? She did not promise to do; she was not in default and interest should not be collected from her as damages and by way of punishment."

Judge Harrison in his argument, showed that Virginia had paid $51,000,000 in interest and principal of the old bonds and still has $24,000,000 of them outstanding, upon which she is paying interest and principal of the that the resources of West Virginia have increased 600 per cent. since the two States separated, while Virginia's has increased only 84 per cent. He said that West Virginia's taxable values aggregate $1,000,000,000, while Virginia's are only $600,000,000. He denied yesterday that Virginia has refused to enter into negotiations to settle the controversy, but declared that as soon as the State was readmitted into the Union she sent commissioners to West Virginia with offers to arbitrate the question and settle it.

"West Virginia is resisting the payment of interest,' he said. "If West Virginia does not pay this interest, who should pay it? Certainly Virginia should not be compelled to pay it. West Virginia was compelled to recognize her obligation for a share of the original debt in her State Constitution, or Congress would never have admitted her into the Union. Recognition of her obligation is written in the Wheeling declaration. If she recognized her equitable proportion of the debt at that time, is it not right that she should be willing to pay interest on that proportion when it is definitely fixed?"

MASSACRE OF CHRISTIANS.

Crucifixion and Burning Alive Reported by Missionaries.

New York, April 29.—Details of the massacre of native Christians at Urumiah, Persia, by Kurds, have been received by the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions Missions, state that not less than 800 have been murdered there and that not less than 2,000 have perished from disease.

The attacks, it would appear, have not been confined to Kurds, but have been made, in at least one instance, by Turkish soldiers. Crucifixion and burning Christians alive have been revived, missionaries reported to the board.

CHICHESTER CHARGES

Walter T. Oliver, of Fairfax, is Chairman of Legislative Committee Which Meets May 3

Richmond, April 29—Walter Tansell Oliver, of Fairfax, chairman of the legislative committee to investigate charges against Judge R. H. L. Chichester, of the Spotsylvania circuit, will call his committee together at Fredericksburg on May 3.

Charges of misuse of his position were brought against Judge Chichester by Delegate Powell, of Spotsylvania and Fredericksburg, independent member of the Virginia House of Delegates, at the last session of that body. He accused the judge of packing electoral boards and of using his office for political ends. His charge came in the course of a heated debate, but were repeated by him when sharply questioned by Judge Martin Williams of Giles County, and resulted in the appointment of a committee of investigation.

Delegate Powell and Judge Chichester and their friends have been busy in the interim preparing charges and defense and both have been at work securing witnesses. The hearings were set by chairman Oliver for May 3 at Fredericksburg.

Each of these missiles reached its goal, and according to the information coming into Geneva, considerable damage was done. A quantity of rifles, together with some machinery, was destroyed.

COL. ROOSEVELT LEAVES THE STAND

Withstood Battery of Questions for Over Thirty Six Hours

HALF-HOUR RECESSES

Other Witnesses of Less Light to Follow Former President—"Justification" Evidence Planned.

Syracuse, N. Y. April 29—Colonel Rooseevlt today made his farewell appearance as a witness in the Barnes-Roosevelt libel trial.

Conclusion of his testmony, which is believed to have smashed, or at least equalled all records for length of time in New York's legal history, was planned.

When he climbed up again today for his final quizz, he had been interrogated thirty-six consecutive hours, with a half hour interrogation planned today by his own counsel and a brief re-cross examination by Barnes' attorneys.

With the retirement today of Roosevelt as the flagship of the defense fileet, the mosquito flotilla of lesser lights summoned for the defense were to follow to substantate the charges of corrupt and crooked bi-partisan alliance between "Bosses' Barnes and Murphy.

Former Senator Harvey D. Hinman, of Binghamton, Bull Moose candidate for governor, was the choice of the defense to follow Roosevelt. Senators Frederick M. Davenport, Newcomb, Agnew and Grattan were also held in readiness, with William J. Loeb, Roosevelt's former private secretary.

Admitting that most of Roosevelt's testimony—the only evidence submitted so far for the defense— has been largely inmitigation of damages claimed by Barnes and not so much n proof of Roosevelt's charges, the defense today planned to present it "justification" evidence.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 29.—Following his long ordeal under cross-examination by counsel for William Barnes, who is suing him for $50,000 damages for alleged libel, Col. Theodore Roosevelt was given an opportunity yesterday to explain his relations with the late Senator Thomas C. Platt and other matters brought out in the course of the cross-examination.

On redirect examination the Colonel declared that his frequent consultations with Senator Platt while the witness was Governor of New York, were due to his knowledge that Platt, as head of the Republican organization, controlled the State Senate, and that in order to get favorable action upon measures whose enactment he desired he must go to Platt, "where the real power was behind the Senate."

"I was not satisfied to have a mere negative result of my administration as Governor. I wanted affirmative action for good," said the Colonel.

Counsel for Mr. Barnes concluded cross-examination of the witness this morning, after Mr. Ivins, chief of the plaintiff's attorneys, had secured from the Colonel an admission that when President of the United States he had approved an act of Congress granting him $25,000 for traveling expenses, in addition to his salary of $50,000 a year.

SENTENCES PAIR TO MARRY

Girl's Assault Charge Proved to Be But Lovers' Tiff

Allentown, Pa., April 29—Stephen A. Mink, a young cigar worker, was haled into Aldermen Gotthardt's Court yesterday on oath of Miss Mary Lucas, who charged him with assault and battery.

It developed he had been a little too rough in a lovers' quarrel, due to his suspicion that she had been flirting with a rival.

The Alderman sentenced him to get married. Mink agreed, but the girl coyly demurred it was too sudden. After a little coaxing she gave formed by the Magistrate.

DANIELS PICKS BENSON

Newly-Created Position of Chief of Operations Goes to Navy Yard Commandant

Philadelphia, April 29—Captain William Shepard Benson, commandant of the Philadelphia Navy Yard since August, 1913, was yesterday appointed Chief of the Bureau of Naval Operations by Secretary of the Navy Daniels. His appointment to the position, which was created by the last Congress, gives Captain Benson more authority and power than any American naval officer has had heretofore except when in command of a fleet in actual war. The position carries the rank of rear admiral, and virtually makes Captain Benson active head of the navy.

KILLED BY A TRAIN

Passengers on South Bound Electric Train Horrified Late Yesterday Evening

Passengers on the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon train that left the Twelfth street station in Washington yesterday afternoon at 5:50 o'clock for Alexandria were apprehensive when their train came to a sudden stop at Fourteenth and B streets, and then were grieved to learn that a boy had been ground to death under the wheels.

Herman Lacey, 16, employed in the seeds division of the Agricultural Department was the victim. He was killed instantly and his mangled body lay beneath the wheels. The body was identified later by his grandfather, Henry L. Lacey, of Hume Springs, Va., with whom the boy lived.

The cars were crowded with passengers and Division Superintendent Percy E. Clift was standing on the front platform with the motorman Frank Travis.

As the car sped down Fourteenth street those on the front platform saw a young man leave the curb and walk toward the tracks. He paused presumably to wait for the cars to go by. Superintendent Clift said he did not signal for a stop.

The gong was clanged and the man fell back one step. Clift's hand was resting on the controller brake and as the car whizzed by he felt the instrument vibrate. The vibration startled him, for he knew what it told. He looked out and saw a man's legs; then they disappeared under the car.

The emergency signal clanged and the brakes were applied and the car stopped within twenty feet. The mangled body of the boy was found about twenty feet from the rear of the trailer. Emergency Hospital just a few blocks away, was notified and Dr. William Kelly responded. He pronounced the boy dead.

The brakeman on the trailer, J. F. Buckley, of Alexandria who was standing on the front platform of his car, said the young man stepped directly between the cars. The bumper struck him, knocking him down in the path of the wheel, which passed over him and swung him clear of the hind wheels.

An inquest will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

SINKING OF THE LEON GAMBETTA

Officers and Crew of Ill-Fated Vessel Cheer as She Sinks

SIDE WAS BLOWN OUT

Engines Started With Full Steam Ahead in Futile Effort to Run Ship Into Shoal Water.

Milan, Italy, April 29—Details of the end of the French cruiser, Leon Gambetta, torpedoed and sunk by the Austrian submarine U-5, in the strait of Otranto Monday night tell of heroism by the officers.

Practically the entire starboard side of the cruiser was blown out when the Austrian torpedo hit her almost amidship. The officers rushed to the bridge and the engines were started full steam ahead in an effort to make shoal water.

It was plain from the start that this would be impossible as within less than a couple of minutes the boiler rooms were flooded and the machinery stopped. The engine room crew drew most of the fires to prevent explosions.

The crew was assembled at quarter and the order given "every man for himself." All of the commissioned officers assembled on the bridge as soon as it was certain that the cruiser must go down, and as she listed just before turning over they united in the cry "Viva la France"

A number of bodies of the victims have been recovered and buried with full military honors in the cemetery at Bridisi.

Rome, April 29—Ten officers of minor rank and 100 seamen survivors of the French cruiser Leon Gambetta, have reached Syracuse where they are receiving treatment.

BREAK IN THE HOT WAVE

Northeasterly Wind Brings Relief From Torrid Conditions of Past Few Days

The hot wave which prevailed during the week began to relax its hold late yesterday afternoon, when the wind, which had been from the southeast veered to the northeast. Cloudy conditions followed and the temperature fell rapidly. There was considerable thunder and lightning, though but little rain in this city, the clouds ranging mostly west and southwest of Alexandria. It is said that heavy rains fell in the neighborhood of Fairfax Courthouse, and there were copious showers in portions of Alexandria county. The temperature today has been cool.

There was hail at Burke's Station and other sections of Fairfax county.

Proceeded by a heavy electrical storm, a heavy downpour drenched Baltimore last night. Beginning about 7 o'clock, with a light sprinkle, the rain increased until at one time it was almost impossible to see across the street. Sharp lightning followed by loud peals of thunder, accompanied the storm. Strong northwest winds prevailed.

Dispatches from different places in Pennsylvania State that rain, hail thunder and lightning prevailed yesterday and last night.

In the Circuit Court for the city in vacation today, Dr. E. A. Gormau qualified as administrator of the estate of Marshall Carr, deceased.

The opening game will be played Saturday, May 1, between the Cardinals and the strong Technical High School Baseball team of Washington, at 4.30 p. m. The Cardinals have booked many first class baseball teams from near by cities and they will try to make all their athletic events as interesting as possible.

EXPECTS PEACE IN FALL

Germany Is Near End of Reserves, British General Thinks

Montreal, April 29—Gen. Sir Horace Smith-Dorrien, commander of the British second army in France, does not think there will be another winter campaign. He made this statement in a speech he delivered to officers of the Canadian contingent just before that force was moved from Neuve Chapelle to Ypres, an extract of which has just been received here. General Smith-Dorrien said:

"No one can say definitely when the war will end. As you know we are optimistic out here, and rightfully so. I do not say the war will end in one month or two months, but I think I can promise you that there will not be another winter campaign.

"We know that Germany's reserve of fighting men are nearly exhausted. They have one more reserve to draw on, and when this trained and put in the field they will have used every available man. We are satisfied of this and so is General Joffre."

BRITISH DEFEAT TURKISH TROOPS

Landing Party Captures Entire Battalion Near Peninsula

RENEW BOMBARDMENT

Moslem Armies on Both Sides of Dardanelles Said to be Commanded by German Officers.

Athens, April 29—Turkish regulars have been defeated with heavy losses, and an entire Turkish battalion has been captured by a British landing party which took possession of the coast along the Gulf of Souvli twenty five miles from Seddie-Banr on the Gallipoli peninsuia.

Advices say that the battle commenced early on Wednesday and lasted until long after nightfall. The British were assisted by warships in their landing operations.

Three allied warships on Tuesday penetrated Gulf of Smyrna. Whether they were able to bombard the inner forts is not yet known.

Bombardment of the Dardanelles fortifications is proceeding with the utmost violence, according to reports from Mylitene, not only at stated periods during the day, but the allied warships are taking advantage of the moonlight to operate during the night.

Details of the operations of the allies along the Gallipoli peninsula show that the British forces are holding the European and the French the Asiatic side. They are advancing very slowly in parallel lines. Up to the present the fighting has been confined to skirmishing as the Turks are apparently waiting to choose their own battle ground. The British have established a chain base on the shore of the Aegean Sea, and have intrenched a frontal line across the peninsula to Eski Hisearlik.

British aviators are understood to have reported the presence in front of their line of a force of some 80,000 Turkish troops of all branches, heavily supplied with artillery.

It is reported that the Turkish forces on both sides of the Dardanelles are commanded by German officers of high rank, who have arrived from the northern battlefront.

The Turks are said to be so strongly intrenched that it will be impossible for the allies to advance except under the cover of their warships, which will make it essential that the forts along the Dardanelles be reduced.

CONVICT TELLS OF KILLING.

Warrant Issued for Overseer Who Beat Negro to Death.

Montgomery, Ala., April 29.—After negro convicts leased by the city for work on a nearby plantation, had testified before a coroner's jury that B. M. Fulcher, an overseer, had beaten Jim Lee, one of their number to death with a strap studded with tacks, officers began today a search for Fulcher with a warrant charging murder in the first degree.

He has not been found. State, county and city authorities are investigating the whipping of convicts.

Given a new hearing yesterday upon the plea that she understood she was only a witness at the time she was held for the grand jury as the alleged accomplice of Dr. William G. Long, a Bristol dentist, in a conspiracy to kill her husband, Mrs. Walter H. Jones was recommitted, her bond being placed at $1,500. Additional letters purporting to have passed between Dr. Long and Mrs. Jones were read at today's hearing. Those tended to strengthen the evidence against Long and Mrs. Jones, neither of whom has been able to give bond.

Interesting News Notes About People of Alexandria—Happenings in Society.

Miss Mildred Kelly has returned to her home in this city, after a visit to friends in Culpeper county, Va.

Mr. Jacet Kickersitz, of Kishineff, Russia, is visiting in this city, and Mr. Abie Moskovity, of Warsaw, Poland, is stopping at the Hotel Rammel.

Mrs. Mary Virginia Agnew, of this city, matron of Virginia of the Irvine Society of America, has received advices that July 24th has been set aside by the Panama-Pacific Exposition as "Clan Irving Day."

The day mentioned is the anniversary of the Battle of Harlow, fought in 1411 between the clans ruled by Donald, Lord of the Isles, and some Northern clans allied with the burghers of Aberdeen. In this battle Sir Alexander Irvine and Hector Maclean, chiefs of their respective people, selecting each other because of the use by both of holly as an emblem or badge, engaged in personal combat. Neither was victor over the other, both died on the field of their wounds. For a number of generations thereafter, when an Irvine and a Maclean met, they offered to exchange swords, implying either was as good as the other. Sir Walter Scott, in his "Tales of a Grandfather," tells the story of the fray.

SUPPOSED MONEY WAS LUNCH.

Two Thousand Two Hundred And Fifty Dollars Found Wrapped in Paper.

Recently an old resident of this city became ill and was compelled to enter the Alexandria Hospital for treatment. He was assisted to that institution by a colored man, and upon reaching the hospital the latter took a package from the man's pocket. The negro handed the package to one of the attaches, telling her that was the sick man's lunch, and it was placed upon a mantle with other articles taken from patients. Later the sick man died.

No more was thought of the incident concerning the supposed lunch until an Alexandrian who was appointed to administer upon the estate went to the hospital and asked for the money which had been taken from the deceased. This startled the attaches, as it was not supposed he brought anything but a lunch with him when he was admitted to the institution. The administrator was told that the only article he left was what was supposed to be his lunch, and this was given the administrator. The package was opened and $2,250 in notes was taken from it. The dead man had for years carried his money on his person.

PAY CAPITATION TAXES TO MAKE FIRST TRIP

City Treasurer Reports Largest List of Qualified Voters in Alexandria For Many Years.

When City Treasurer Thomas W. Robinson closes his books on Saturday, the last day for the payment of capitation taxes in order to permit persons to vote in the primary to be held on August 3rd, and in the general election on the second Tuesday in November there will be the largest qualified vote that Alexandria has had in many years. Up to the closing hour last night 1731 persons had paid there capitation taxes and with three days more to run it is estimated that the total will reach well over the 1800 mark. This number does not include the Confederate soldiers who are exempted from the payment of poll taxes. At the close of last year the number who paid their taxes were 1607.

The heavy payment of taxes has mystified the politicians who are unable to ascribe a satisfactory reason for the big increase in the qualified vote. There is no indication of any contest this year for the two offices to be filled, that of state senator from this district which included the city of Alexandria and the counties of Alexandria, Fairfax and Prince William, and delegate from the city and county of Alexandria. The former position is held by Senator R. Ewell Thornton, of Fairfax county, and the latter by Delegate J. Fred Birrell of this city. No opposition has been announced to either of these candidates and the general opinion prevails that they will secure the nomination in the Democratic primary without having a contest. The Democratic nomination is equivalent to election.

There has been a heavy qualification in Alexandria and Fairfax and Alexandria counties, but this is said to be due to local conditions, practically all of the county officials having opposition in the Democratic primary.

People's Line to Commence Service on Upper River Route May First.

The inauguration of the service on the Peoples Line, which was recently organized in this city to operate a steamer on the Mattawoman creek route of the Potomac river, between Washington and Grinder's Wharf, will take place on next Saturday morning. The commencement of the service is being awaited with interest, not only by the merchants and business men of Alexandria, who will welcome the increased service on the river and by the residents of the country which will be served by the new line, but by the people of Alexandria generally who feel a deep interest in the new enterprise because it was financed in this city and its promoters are well known citizens of this community.

As announced when the line was first incorporated the company purchased the large and fast steamer known as the Angler. This has been renamed the W. L. Davis, after Capt. W. L. Davis, the general manager of the company. For the past six weeks a large force of mechanics have been at work overhauling the boat for its new service. The engines and boilers have been put in first class condition, all the old wood work torn out and renewed, new furniture and finishings installed and the boat repainted and decorated. The boat has a carrying capacity of 900 passengers.

Captain William L. Davis, for many years connected with the Potomac and Chesapeake steamship company, will be the master with Captain Austin W. Kelly, as his mate, and Charles Tennesson as chief engineer. All three of these are well known river men who have spent long years of service on the Potomac. Stepheu Davis, of this city, a well known young business man, is president and treasurer of the company.

One of the innovations which will be inaugurated by the company will be that they will receive freight to fifteen minutes of the departure of the boat.

FRANK'S PLEA FOR A PARDON.

After an adverse decision of the tribunal of last resort—the Supreme Court of the United States—Leo M. Frank, sentenced to death for killing Mary Phagan, a factory girl in Atlanta, has but one hope of escape from the chair. The Governor of Georgia may be induced to mitigate his punishment, as there is no likelihood of the condemned man being pardoned. It is said that fifteen thousand names have been secured to a petition praying for a commutation of sentence.

The lot of an official who has the power to act in such a case should invoke the sympathy of all. A man who fills a gubernatorial chair has much with which to contend, and among the most trying of all his experiences is to be compelled to decline to interfere in cases where capital punishment is about to be meted out. All men, no matter how degenerate, have relatives and friends, and they are naturally persistent, and never leave any stone unturned in their efforts to bring about miscarriages of justice.

The governor of a state is burdened with a great responsibility. He binds himself before God and man to perform his duties, and should he prove recreant he will lose the respect of heaven and earth.

When Andrew J. Montague was Governor of Virginia, and after the Supreme Court of the United States had refused the petition of McCue, who murdered his wife in Charlottesville, he was implored to save the culprit from the punishment about to be meted out to him. The condemned man's little daughter was sent into the gubernatorial mansion to implore mercy for her father. The Governor, kind-hearted man as he is, was compelled by his sense of duty, to allow the child to leave with no hope for her parent.

The case of the unfortunate Rev. William Dodd is often cited to show what interest is occasionally taken in men who forfeited their lives by their conduct. Dr. Dodd was convicted of forgery. It was a capital offense in England at that time, and two young men out of the ordinary walks of life had a short time before been hanged for similar offenses. No great interest was taken in their fate, but when Dr. Dodd, a prominent and popular minister, and author of a commentary upon the Bible, was sentenced to death, a cry of horror spread over England. A petition a mile long was presented to King George the Third praying for clemency, but the sovereign, feeling as sorry for Dr. Dodd as any of his friends, declined to interfere.

The case of Leo M. Frank has been of national interest, and the newspapers of the larger cities have printed pages at times in behalf of the convicted man. The courts, however, have found him guilty of murder in the first degree. Some are inclined to believe that the young man is the victim of a miscarriage of justice. The tribunals which he has from time to time faced think differently however.

Interference in such cases brings a terrible responsibility upon an executive, no matter how mercifully he may be by nature. The first law ever given to the human race was after the subsidence of the flood. It was blood for blood. In most countries of the world this decree of heaven has been affirmed by similar human laws. The man who sits upon a jury is heaven's representative as well as that of his state. The Governor is invested with the same responsibility. Should they act upon their own feelings in cases of capital crime and refuse to carry out the law of God and man they assume a responsibility they may not realize at the time..

WONDERS OF THE AGE.

A dispatch from Chicago a few days ago stated that a young woman was called to the telephone to answer a call, when, to her surprise she found she had been summoned to talk to San Francisco. The voice was familiar; it was that of a young man with whom she had been friendly. She was more startled to find that he had called her for the purpose of proposing marriage. The three lettered word was in less time than it takes to tell it in the ear of her admirer.

A doctor in Marshalltown, Iowa, was recently called upon to make a hurried visit to a patient. An automobile not being caught swift enough for such an urgent call, the doctor was placed by an aviator in an monoplane, on which he made a run of eleven miles in six minutes and the return in nine minutes, an average of ninety miles an hour.

THE LATEST MARINE HORROR.

The sinking of the French cruiser Leon Gambetta off Otranto by an Austrian submarine is the latest naval horror. The attack took place at the "heel" of the Italian "boot" at the entrance to the Adriatic. The cruiser carried 714 officers and men 136 of whom were saved.

In ancient days, before the advent of the powerful steamers, the euroslydon, which at times swept the Mediterranean, was the terror of those who went down to the sea in ships. The vessel upon which Paul made his memorable voyage from Cesarea to Rome was caught in the euroclydon and "tossed up and down in Adria," probably over the spot where the sea has closed over several hundred Frenchmen almost in the twinkling of an eye. While but little anxiety is now caused by the euroclydon a greater menace, and that under the sea, is besetting mariners in the twentieth century.

The unfortunate cruiser cost five million dollars. The French have been more fortunate with their navy than England during the present war. A number of English war vessels have been sent to the bottom by submarines. Now that these modern terrors have made their appearance in the Mediterranean the number of naval disasters will be steadily increasing.

A masked mob stormed the Fayette County, Tenn., jail early yesterday, got Tom Brooks, a negro charged with killing Pleasant Hawkins and R. L. Day, prominent farmers, and hanged him. His body was riddled with bullets.

A tire burst and a speeding auto hurtled a ditch, crashed through a fence, and turned turtle on Rockville turnpike near the District of Columbia line last night, instantly killing Montgomery Harris, 35 years old, of Rockville, Md., and pinning to the ground Dr. Robert C. Warfield, also of Rockville. The latter is seriously injured.

Garrett Merkley, aged 45, living near Lansdale, Pa., was killed Tuesday afternoon by an automobile, which he failed to notice. The machine was running at low speed; but the driver, Paul Zimmerman, a plumber, could not stop in time to prevent the accident, as Markley jumped directly in front of the machine, was crushed by its weight and died shortly afterward.

The business of manufacturing shells is assuming very large proportions in Canada, 200 factories in the Dominion being engaged in this work. The orders are placed through a central committee, and now amount to $175,000,000. Arrangements have been completed at Sydney, Nova Scotia, and at Sault Ste. Marie for refining copper and zinc and the manufacture of brass for shells.

According to the Geneva Tribune, the Sultan of Turkey has decided to send an autograph letter to the Triple Entente powers soliciting a separate peace. The military are forcibly seizing food stocks which had been laid in by wealthy Turks.

L. T. Fleshman, a motorman in the employ of the Virginia Railway and Power Company, was awarded damages to the amount of $4,500 by a jury in the Hustings Court, Part II, in Norfolk yesterday. Fleshman sued for $15,000 damages for injuries resulting from an electric shock while in the discharge of his duties. Fleshman claimed that the accident was due to the negligence of the company, while the defendant alleged contributory negligence.

A sensation was created in the Norfolk County Court yesterday with Judge Coleman presiding, when Rev. L. J. Westfall, of Portsmouth, registered a protest against the granting of a liquor license to the Kimball Hotel at Ocean View, declaring that the establishment openly and flagrantly violated the Byrd law, and that gambling was also permitted on the premises. On the stand Westfall testified that, accompanied by two friends, he recently visited the resort at Ocean View on Sunday and that beer was openly served to them and paid for by him.

At a mass meeting of the Citizens' party of Norfolk held last night, two platforms were submitted and referred to a committee named to report at a subsequent session. One platform calls for a direct vote on all officers of the city, and for the referendum and recall by the people, pledging the party to advocate candidates for the State Legislature to carry out this program. A second platform declared enforcement of the prohibition law to become effective in the State next year, the main issue before the people, pledging the support of the party to legislative candidates who would favor laws to rigidly enforce the enabling act and to banish liquor from the State.

MANAGER CONFESSES.

Tears Button of Fraternal Order of Which he is a Member From Lappel.

New York, April 29.—Phillip T. White, the $6,000 a year manager of the Masury Paint Company in Brooklyn, on trial as the leader of a band of highwaymen, who held up his employers' bank messengers and robbed them of $3,000 nearly a year ago, rose from his chair in the courtroom yesterday, stretched both arms toward Supreme Court Justice Aspinwall, on the bench, and exclaimed: "Stop! I am guilty. I want to confess my guilt before my God and the world."

He reached up to his coat lapel and fumbled with a gold button in the button hole, insignia of his membership in a fraternal order known all over the country.

"And I surrender my membership in the Mystic Shrine," he contined, tearing the button loose. "I am no longer worthy to remain a Shriner."

THREE NUNS KILLED.

Were Superintending Removal of Charges During Bombardment.

Paris, April 29.—Three hundred refugees from Poperinghe, 8 miles west of Ypres, which has come under the fire of German artillery, have arrived in this city on special trains. Most of them are inmates of an orphanage and a home for the aged conducted by Franciscan Sisters.

When the bombardment of Poperinghe was begun on Sunday, the sisters declare, the institutions were not spared, although they were flying the Red Cross flag. Three nuns were killed while superintending the removal of their charges and several of the inmates were wounded.

LIQUOR IN PIANO BOX.

Carload of "Furniture" Found to Contain "Wet Goods."

Charleston, W. Va., April 29.—State authorities renewed yesterday their vigilance in enforcing the West Virginia prohibition laws following the discovery and confiscation of the contents of a car supposed to have been loaded with furniture, but in reality containing intoxicating liquors, here Tuesday.

A piano box, trunks, boxes and barrels, from which protruded bits of bed clothing, were found by the authorities to be filled with bottles of liquor. Gene Drennen, a local restaurant keeper at whose home a wagon load of liquor was alleged to have been found, and Mrs. Maude Hulland Mrs. Mackie Duncan, relatives of Drennen, were arrested and held under bond. The car, it was said, was sent here from Cincinnati.

The prohibition officers also confiscated a consignment of "hardware," which was found to be whisky.

A GREAT NEWSPAPER

If you live within one hundred miles of Philadelphia you live in "Philadelphia Record" territory just as surely as if you resided within reach of the shadow of Billy Penn on top of the City Hall. That is to say that "The Philadelphia Record" has its eye on what is going on in all the communities in which you are particularly interested. You can get a circumscribed view of your immediate surroundings from a neighboring hilltop. You can see a little farther from a captive balloon. Through the columns of "The Philadelphia Record", however, you can get a bird's eye view of a thousands or more of cities, towns and villages in four thickly populated States.

Of course, the city newspaper reaches out all over the world for the news. But in the sifting of news in "the Record" office its value to people in "Record" territory is kept constantly in mind. The handling of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, and Maryland news in "The Record" is an important factor in making that paper the favorite in those States. Another factor is the ability with which its feature departments are conducted and their value in the suburban and rural home. Still another and not the least important is the accuracy, fairness, cleanliness and wholesomeness of "The Philadelphia Record" from the first page to the last.

MAN OF RAGS LEFT $18,000.

His Summer Overcoat Was Device to Conceal Patches.

Pottsville, Pa., April 29.—That Fergus White, an old man, walked around his home town at Ashland with his clothes so patched that no one could tell which was the original piece was testified to before Judge Mac Henry Wilhelm, in Orphans' Court yesterday. In order to conceal rags, White wore a long overcoat even in the hottest weather in summer.

But when he died he was found to have $18,000 in cash in his home, not having any faith in banks. He left a will giving all he possessed to his nephew, M. P. Hoban.

Two other nephews contested the will, alleging undue influence, but Judge Wilhelm decided the document is valid, and Hoban will get the money.
